Texel takes top sheep title for Skelbister

Similar to the other shows, numbers at the County Show were down, but the overall opinion was that the quality of stock on show more than made up for it.

In what was an extremely close contest, the champion sheep at Saturday's County Show was a Texel ram lamb shown by Heather Hourston, Skelbister, Orphir.

The animal was by Glenside Nib Scot, out of a ewe by a Haddo sire, the award coming close on the heels of her reserve champion win at Thursday's Dounby Show.

Making its debut in the ring, reserve went to a Cheviot shearling ram shown by James and Elsie Wishart, Newbigging Harray. Sired by Biggings Leader, out of a ewe by Longeo Iceman, Oldfield Golden Promise was bought from Charlie and Isobel Angus, Oldfield, Thurso, by Mr Wishart last year.

After taking the championship at the Dounby Show earlier in the week, the County Show Beltex champion was Langlands Lancelot, a shearling ram shown by Charles Copland, Overhouse, Harray.

A gimmer from Raymond Flaws, Durriesdale, Evie, took reserve.

In the Border Leicester section, a gimmer from Lena Kirkpatrick, Millburn, Sandwick, was champion, with reserve going to Jack and Laura Cromarty's ram — the class champion at the East Mainland Show earlier this month.

Again, repeating their East Mainland success, the half-bred sheep champion also went to Jack and Laura Cromarty, Roadside, Toab.

A gimmer shown by Davy Summers, Easthouse, Toab, took the honours in the Suffolk section, while his ram lamb took reserve.

Winner of the Charollais section was a ewe shown by Elaine Eunson, Halley, Deerness. Reserve went to a ram shown by Sheena Coghill, Muce, Birsay.

Champion cross-bred sheep title was won by a gimmer shown by Thelma Bruce, Greentoft, Deerness. Best animal in the any other pure breed category went to a blue-faced Leicester ram, shown by James Cowe, Little Howes, Holm.

Hoy poultry wins at 2008 County Show

Hoy's Donald MacIsaac must be used to winning at the shows by now, and his entries in the County Show's poultry section certainly didn't let him down.

His 16-month-old, home bred Australorp Bantam Cock was the overall champion in the tent, while last year's overall winner, Bryan Taylor took the reserve prize with a white call duck.

Donald was genuinely pleased to win the champion's title at the biggest show in Orkney.

He said: "I thought it was in good condition but I didn't know it was going to win."

Asked the secret of his success with the birds, he said: "It's really down to hard work and presentation, but you have got to have a good stock for a start."

Bryan Taylor was celebrating his second success in just two years at the County Show, taking the reserve prize this year with a six-month old home bred white call duck. Bryan has in excess of 30 ducks and keeps a variety of other birds as well.

"I think the secret is getting into the right type of bird and then trying to keep the strain," he explained.

"I bought a pair of ducks from a man from south, and all my ducks are from them."

Judge Brian Miller from Elgin judged at the caged bird show in recent years, but has never judged at Orkney's County Show.

He said: "I was looking for perfection, and I got as near to it as I was going to get today. The champion is in better condition than everything else.

"The call duck was the reserve champion — to be honest the standard here is as good as anything you would find south. The good birds are really good."

PETS

It was a feline affair at the show's pet section, with cats taking both first and second place.

Indi Reid from Tankerness's cat was given first place, while Lauren Marwick from Finstown's kitten was the runner-up.

Lauren, aged nine, said her kitten, Sapphire was maybe nine months old.

"Sapphire was a rescue cat from Cat Protection, so we're not sure," she added.

Lauren's mum Trudy said: "She has really bonded with Sapphire — Lauren had crouched the day we got her and she was a real comfort. They have got really close."

Results: Children's Pets (any animal not shown in dog section eligible for competition): 1 Indi Reid; 2 Lauren Marwick; 3 Claire Corsie.

Special prizes: Trophy presented by the SSPCA for best 'Cared For' Pet: Indi Reid.

Working dog champion

A working collie was top dog at the County Show this year, closely followed by a Dalmatian.

A good variety of breeds turned out to take part in the section, but John Foulis from Holm's collie, Pat was a cut above the rest, according to judge Bill Carstairs.

Pat's mother was a bitch from Shetland, and the stud was owned by Jim Fraser from Westshore in Rendall. Her owner, John Foulis said he was delighted and never would have guessed that Pat would win.

"She's nearly five years old — I never expected her to win today. A collie never usually wins the champion. The judge must've had a good eye!

"She is always well behaved. She's a working dog so she has to do what she's told but it's the first time she's ever won the champion and we've been coming here for a lot of years."

The reserve prize went to Heather Pritchard's Caldecacre Dalmatian — one with a famous bloodline at that.

"Her mum is the dog in the Russell Hobbs advertisement for Hoover," explained Heather.

"I bought her in Lancashire, and her name's Cee-Cee. I never expected to get this far today — I'm over the moon. She has really not been trained up for this.

"She is 18 months old and I've had her since she was a pup. I'm so pleased for her."

Champion in the puppy section was Hera — a ten-month-old Leonburger pup, owned by Carolyn Griffiths from Northfield in Holm.

The only Shetland Collie entered in that class inevitably took first place. The ten-year-old dog, Jocky, is owned by Dorothy Wood from Moonlight in Evie.

Top dog in the Spaniel class was Ian Kirkness from Dounby's three-year-old springer, Queenie, bred by Erica Shearer.

In the Labrador class, Catherine Corsie from Burray's dog Jake took first place. Jake is a four-year-old working gun dog, and took the overall champion three years ago.

The best retriever was Denise Stout from Rendall's dog, while the only Poodle in its class was Denzel — a 13-month-old pup owned by Jean Geddes from Quarryfield in Orphir.

Hugh Cameron's Japanese Chin — one of only two in Orkney — took first prize in the Toys class. Kobe is a two-year-old dog. The Camerons' other Japanese Chin won in its class two years ago.

A Westie named Podge took the prize for best Terrier. The nine-year-old dog is owned by Sonja Wishart from Westquoy in Orphir.

The winner of the Any Other Breed class was the eventual reserve champion overall, Cee-Cee the Dalmatian.

Judge Bill Carstairs said he delighted to see so many dogs being shown.

"There has been a very good standard," he explained.

"It was very nice to see so many dogs out today. What I was looking for was really good conformation and a good state of health — I was very strict on their teeth too!

"The champion ticked all the boxes, and is a very good dog. The reserve was another great dog — Dalmatians are not so popular now, which is a shame."

Young Anthea takes County Show title

It was the way she moved.

Judge David Leggat was particularly impressed by the locomotion of the Charolais heifer he named supreme champion of the County Show cattle classes.

The heifer, Baillieston Anthea, was shown by her breeder, Ronnie Baillie of W. R. Baillie and Co, Biggings, Toab, who had taken the East Mainland championship with the heifer's half sister.

The County Show champion is a two-year-old in-calf heifer by Mowbraypark Umpire, out of Baillieston Umbretta.

Mr Baillie declared himself delighted, "absolutely delighted," by the win.

"We thought she might be in with a chance, but you never know," he said.

The heifer will stay at Biggings.

"She's in calf now to Dingle Hofmeister, so we'll see how she breeds."

Mr Leggat, of United Auctions, Perth, said he had been impressed by the quality on show in the cattle, but not surprised.

"Orkney has a worldwide reputation for quality," he said, "so I was expecting to see good cattle."

He said the Charolais heifer was really well conformed.

"The great thing about her is that she's quite a large animal but she moves really well — locomotion is really important. She's in calf, too."

He had particular praise, too, for the reserve to the champion, saying it was good to be able to name a commercial animal as the reserve.

"This animal says everything about Orkney farming," he said. "She's a top-quality example of a commercial animal."

Mr Leggat said he thought the nine-month-old steer calf would do well if shown south in the shows over the coming months.

That is exactly what the Baillies, of Sebay Farm, Tankerness, intend.

Balfour Baillie said the home-bred Limousin-cross stott would be off to the Thainstone Spectacular show and sale in September.

He was pleased the winner of the black/blue polled section had done so well against a purebred Continental animal.

"He's only nine months old. Competing against the Charolais heifer was always going to be hard.

"I'm delighted, absolutely delighted."

The stott, named Black Jack, was sired by Loosebeare Amazon and out of an Aberdeen-Angus-cross heifer.

Earlier, in the breed classes, the champion Charolais beat her half brother into second place.

The reserve Charolais champion, also bred by W. R. Baillie and Co., was Baillieston Callum, a 14-month-old bull also sired by Mowbraypark Umpire, but out of Nearhouse Rena.

In the reserve champion's class, the second-place black/blue polled animal was Garson Farms' Belgian Blue-cross heifer.

The 17-month-old was out of a Limousin-Belgian Blue-cross cow and sired by the bull Halma.

Eric Heddle's bull, which won the Shorthorn section at Dounby, also took the Shorthorn championship at the County Show.

Trunley Rustler, now three years old, was bought as a sucking calf at the Perth Sales.

He is by Trunley Timber, out of Trunley Lillian Russet — the cow Mr Heddle brought home to East Moaness, Lyness, with her bull calf.

Standing reserve in the Shorthorn section was E. and I. Kemp's nine-year-old cow in calf, Greenness Ella, which had won the East Mainland Show's Shorthorn title.

Her dam was the homebred Greenness Eliza and she was sired by the AI bull Balmyle Zeus.

Also coming from East Mainland Show success was the champion in the Any Other Continental section, Balfour Baillie's Belgian Blue cow, Oxcroft Adora.

The three-year-old was sired by Radarvan Terbrek and bought from Aberdeenshire.

The reserve in that section was a bull calf shown by Rod and Sian Jones, of Denwick, Deerness.

Aberdeen-Angus champion was the West Mainland title-holder, Skail Eric, bred and shown by the Davidsons of Skail Farm.

Sired by Blelock Blackstock, the 15-month-old bull was out of Skail Estella.

John W. Hepburn, of Burnside, Tankerness, showed the reserve champion AA, a seven-year-old cow in milk. Newlot Esmeralda was out of another Newlot Esmeralda, by the AI bull Galantray Predator.

First in the coloured cross-bred cattle was Richard Taylor's 17-month Limousin-cross heifer. Sired by Ronick Hawk, she was out of a Limousin-Belgian Blue-cross cow.

In reserve was Balfour Baillie's 11-month-old Limousin-cross heifer, sired by Loosebeare Amazon and out of a Limousin-cross cow.

The Limousin championship saw the heifers shown by Liam Muir and Gary Flett swap places.

The heifer from Mr Muir, of Midhouse, Harray, the 21-month-old Cornsay Brodie, was second at Dounby but won at the County Show.

French-bred, she was sired by the French bull Papin and out of Paola.

Gary and Claire Flett, of Leary, Birsay, won with their two-year-old heifer, Leary Babe, at Dounby, but were placed in reserve at the County Show Limousin championship.

Leary Babe was homebred, sired by the AI bull Ronick Hawk and out of Leary Jill.

Ian's efforts pay off with win for Ivy's mare

"I have tried long and hard, that is for a number of years, until we have had the championship. I really wanted to win it for Ivy."

That was a delighted Ian Smith, who showed the overall winner in the horse section — a Clydesdale mare, Hrossland Just Meg — at this year's County Show.

Hrossland Just Meg, who is 11 years old, was sired by West Clumley Daniel and out of Hrossland Just Mandy.

Ian, who has been showing Ivy Cromarty's Clydesdales at shows for a number of years, flung his hat in the air and let out a "whoop" as the Clydesdale was announced the winner.

He said: "She is a good mare, born and bred in Orkney. She is as hard as nails; she lies out all winter."

When asked why he gave up his own time to show Ivy's animals, Ian said it was something that he quite simply loved.

Clydesdale judge, Ian Flett, of Millhouse, Lyde Road, Harray, added: "If it is in your blood, it is in your blood — it is like a disease!"

The judge added his thoughts on why the mare had picked up the title this year: "She is a tremendous mare; very well presented. Really, the hair on her is to be admired anywhere in the country. She is a horse that could stand at any show in Scotland."

Mr Flett said his fellow judges had agreed that she was outstanding — and all the more pleasing for Ivy Cromarty, of Heathervale in Burray, as the mare is home-bred.

But Mr Flett also praised the light-legged champion and Shetland pony that she was up against, describing them as "superior" animals and a credit to Orkney.

Owner of the Clydesdale, Ivy Cromarty, who is a stalwart shower in the county, said she was "absolutely delighted".

"Ian Smith does the most wonderful job with presenting her. I really cannot take a great deal of credit for her showing, Ian does all the hard work. I think we should take off our hats to him.

"We showed at the Hope show and she was beaten by her daughter there! We were hoping she would do well, you are never confident until you see it happen. I was hoping Ian might win; he has been up here so many times and been reserve," Ivy added.

Reserve champion in the horse and pony section was awarded to another familiar entrant, Jack and Laura Cromarty, Roadside, Toab, with their ten-year-old mare, Bayview First Class — a previous winner of the overall championship at the County Show.

She is out of Linglass Suzie and sired by Millhouse First Class.

Laura said: "We are delighted today. She is a full sister of the one who was champion of the East Mainland Show last week."

Judge of the Shetlands, Douglas MacArthur, from 3 George Wilson Road, Aldearn, Nairnshire, said of the reserve that she was an "exceptional and outstanding" champion.

"Very good quality and very true," he added.

Mr MacArthur has Shetland ponies himself, and has judged at shows in Orkney in the past.

Of the Clydesdale, he said: "She is a nice, powerful mare."

Reserve Shetland champion went to Holder Firth, Eastaben, Stenness, and his three-year-old filly, Rashieburn Lady.

Champion in the light-legged in-hand category was awarded to Caroline Casey, Gaitnip Farm, St Ola and Orkney's Million Dollar Baby.

The Connemara cross/Irish draft thoroughbred was reserve horse champion at the East Mainland Show.

Reserve in the section was given to Patricia Lie, Scorrabrae Inn, Orphir with her four-month-old filly foal, Scorrabrae Sweet Symphony.

The youngster was also awarded the champion foal title.

Polly, as the home-bred foal is known at home, was sired by a synod Welsh thoroughbred, Kingarth Earl Thorfinn, and out of another home-bred mare, Scorrabrae 1st Symphony.

The foal's great-grandfather was a warm blood, Dutch Courage, who was at the Seoul Olympics taking part in the three-day eventing.

Light-legged in-hand judge, Angus Kidd, from Perth, said of the winner: "I thought it was a very nice pony that moved well and looks to me that will be the kind of pony that will do well in the ridden.

"The reserve was the foal. It was a nice foal with plenty of scope to grow on. An animal that will do a good ridden in the future. There appears to be a lot of nice quality horses and ponies here in Orkney."

Toots Cromarty, from Hilltoft in Burray, won the ridden ponies over 16.2 class, while Mrs C. Flett and Miss S. Swannie, Berridale, Dounby were successful in the ridden section over 15.2 hand class.

The 15.2 hands and under class, saw Jill Spence, of Wideford Mains, pick up the title, while Erica Tait, 15 East Road, Kirkwall, won the ridden ponies, not exceeding 14.2 hands class.

Inga Barnett, Serrigar, South Ronaldsay, won the ridden ponies, not exceeding 13.2 hands class, and Anna Tait, Newhallee, Glaitness Road, the ridden ponies, not exceeding 12.2 hands.

Ridden ponies, coloured, any size was won by S. & H. Nixon, Mill Cottage, Stenness, while Shannon McGuinness, 21 Quilco, Dounby was named number one in the pure bred mountain and moorland class.

Maxi cob winner was Kirsten A. Norquoy, Flanders, Dounby, and ridden cob went to Alix Tait. Coleen Wood, Mount Pleasant, Stromness, won the leading rein, excluding Shetland ponies, class.

The Golden Kestrel Cup for the best in ridden section went to Mrs C. Flett and Miss S. Swannie with reserve Jill Spence.
